between January 2005 and March 2007, a total of 325 analyzable women entered this study.

Additional; the designation of aspirin and clopidogrel was missing from the following contraindication:

Muslims around the world abstain from eating, drinking, and sexual relations from sunrise to sunset during Ramadan, the holiest month in the Islamic calendar.